The concept is that each of us can have a positive transformational effect on the world by envisioning a world more in synch with our hopes, dreams and aspirations. We are envisioning a reality where a group of like-minded individuals join together to imagine and believe in an altered reality. As our numbers increase and we get on similar wavelengths our creative power will be greatly increased. The future is up to us. We are at the Edge of Creation where everything comes into being.

What is the part of (your name here) in this adventure?

That is totally up to you. Even if you do not currently realize it, you are in full control over everything that happens in your life. Whatever you believe about your present and future will, for better or worse become your life. Nobody else's reality need have any effect on yours unless you choose to believe that it must. While you can influence others with the positive or negative energy you generate, they will always have total free concerning your effect on them. If you are generating positive optimistic energy, that will be the course of your life. However, it will be of great value to you if you can minimize your exposure to negative energy and constantly focus on the people and things around you that give you joy and satisfaction. The more you can move momentum in that positive direction, the more easily everything will work out exactly as you desire.

Learning to ignore appearances in the physical realm that do not conform to your desires is the challenge you face. Your rational mind will say that those things are "real" but you need to know they are only given substance by people accepting them as "reality". It's the old saying of seeing the glass half empty or half full. This might seem a small thing but it is huge. It reflects a state of mind. What you are going to discover if you have not already is that "consciousness" CREATES Reality. You are the Creator of everything you will ever experience. You are here in what we will call The GAIA Game (more about that in a bit) to learn to become an expert at using your emotions to consistently design an evolving world responding to your insights and inspirations. You are here to hone your skills at creating the world of your hopes and dreams and thus moving the evolution of all Creation forward with new wonders and enjoyment. We hope you will become a part of "The Gaia Game Alliance" – click here to learn more.

You are a solo player but you have a great opportunity to assist many struggling players develop their own creative skills. As they improve it will make it easier for you to improve. There are many who believe we have reached a point in the evolution of consciousness where we are close to having the "critical mass" that will trigger some very definite shifts in how we all perceive reality.

The Big Truth

(Your name here) is a made up character in a time-space-material world. The book, The Edge of Creation, is about learning how to gain more control over the character you have created. The highly evolved conscious being that is the real you has invented this character to interact with the time-space world you find yourself in. Like an actor on the stage, you have adopted a role in a story that you are defining and making up as you go along with your main objective to bring reality to your inspirations, hopes and dreams and get great enjoyment out of the process. You have been granted total free will and no outside force or authority is judging you.

Karma rules: also known as The Law of Attraction and Newton's Third Law of Motion, whatever you focus your creative energy on you will manifest in your life adventure.

The objective of the game is to learn how to control the thinking of the character you are playing. You must come to recognize that (your name here) is a very "real" entity that believes it is the ALL of You and not just a useful but nonetheless made-up character. The most common name for this part of you is "ego" – we will refer to it as the basic operating system of your bio-computer brain. You have programmed it to be a very sophisticated persona that serves as the vehicle for all your interactions with the physical world. The only problem with "ego" you is that it is entirely the result of your experiences and memories. This means that there is very likely much programming in there that does not serve your interests. Many people really believe this ego character is who they are, but you can be assured that you are much more than that. That REAL you is directly connected to an infinite, all-encompassing energy field and can tap into the forces that created the entire physical Universe. Taking the controls is up to you, because "conscious" you can do anything you are inspired to do.

You are God. We are God.

That's right, YOU are God. You may have had people telling you all your life that God was some divine force that you were to look up to, pray to and possibly believe was going to punish you for wrongdoing. That is all incorrect. You are the Creator and the master of the Universe. Everything in your world is springing forth from your consciousness. You imagine something and if you decide to believe in it you will make it so. Now before you get too carried away with the fact that you can wield the infinite power of Creation we need to let you know that it is not as easily said as done. Also, we want to let you know you are no better than anyone else because they are all God too.

The first thing you are probably saying to yourself is that if this is true, there are a great many people out there who are really doing a poor job. They are actually all just fine the way they are – they just have no idea about who they really are. They may not realize they have any power at all to determine the events of their life. Most people believe they just have to do their best to survive a world they have little if any control over and make the best of it.

Some people even believe they are better than “others” and need to get the upper hand on them to succeed. In truth it makes little difference what anyone else does or thinks as far as you are concerned. You are totally on your own and can ally yourself with others becoming aware of their creative powers or allow negative voices to bring you down.

Where are we? We are the designers at The Edge of Creation

The “Edge of Creation” is a guidebook for an adventure in the evolution of consciousness. The awareness of our true ability as the creators of reality is an inevitable result of the higher consciousness we are evolving toward. This journey will help you shift your perception of reality as you discover more about your true nature. We should start by saying that because you find yourself reading these pages you are ready for these insights. Whether you accept all of the ideas found herein is not important. These ideas will be like seeds that will blossom into new found abilities and perspectives on life. You can be assured that you are here at this point in the ongoing saga of the human species because you have an important role to play in fine-tuning our future path. That may seem to be placing a lot of responsibility on your shoulders, but accepting this role is optional. If you choose, you can simply continue your life as you have been doing, but you may find being part of the adventure at hand will be much more fun and satisfying.

This book is about learning how to gain more control over the character you have created, whom you call (your name here). The highly evolved conscious being that is the real you has invented this character to interact with the time-space world you find yourself in. Like an actor on the stage, you have adopted a role in a story that you are defining and making up as you go along with your main objective to bring reality to your inspirations, hopes and dreams and get great enjoyment out of the process. You have been granted total free will and no outside force or authority is judging you.

We have no obligation to do anything. There is no judgment and no right or wrong. The operating principal for the game (which we have chosen to call The GAIA Game) is totally interactive – every action or thought attracts energy and substance that has the same energy and vibration signature. Each thought or action is in effect your “request” to draw more of the same to you. Again, you cannot do it wrong or make a mistake. Everything is rooted in karma or what we have been referring to as the Law of Attraction. Like attracts like. That’s it. This and all the other “instruction” manuals for playing the game are just attempts to alert you to this primary law of existence. The insights here are solely about giving you the knowledge of the parameters of the game so that you can get really good at getting what you want.

Your opportunity is to have a lot of fun dreaming up and bringing into Reality as much as is pleasing to you as possible. As you get good at it, all of Creation rejoices with you as you mold energy and vibration into forms that make the whole game more wonder filled. Again, there is no judgment but this is why Source continuously tries to get these messages to us about how things work – so you can play a part in making the adventure game more rewarding and fun for all of Creation. Remember, WE are the point of manifestation in 3D time and space. Source You wants to experience through You as a glorious creator of beauty and wonder. All of evolution is about making more elaborate and better functioning forms – you have the opportunity to play a major role in the process – it can be a starring role if you choose.

As a very wise man, Joseph Campbell said “follow your bliss”. Turn you attention away from all worry, concern and fear. Focus as consistently as possible on a continuous and expectant search for things to appreciate. The words of the Bob Marley song “Three Little Birds” should be you motto to live by: “Don’t worry, everything is going to be alright”. Believe it and it will be so.

If all of you who have begun to realize that you create your own reality by what you choose to believe in will learn to be intentional about your creation and become skilled at using your emotional compass, we can alter the future in very significant ways. A new age has begun and we are responsible for shaping how it will unfold.

GET A COPY OF THE EDGE OF CREATION and get on a path to re-imagine the future for your benefit and to co-create a better world.

Our intent is to assemble a network of like-minded people to do some intentional “imagineering” of improved realities for the planet. I think the prospect is both fun and exciting – together we could maybe really get that quantum leap in consciousness off the ground. Thank you for all your contributions to the story we are sharing on this lovely planet we are lucky to have as our home.
